

Position: Special Project Team Member

Location: Mountain View

Schedule/Status: Full-time for 12 months, but has potential to extend

Compensation: $18-$20/hour plus OT

Travel: 40%

Company Type: Information Technology

Description:

This is a temporary position (contract assignments are designed to last 12 months with potential to extend) where you will work on projects that drive innovation and improve the way we search for, access and view geographic information. This project requires wilderness operations for the remote deployment, search and recovery of electronic systems and equipment. As a project team member, you will be involved with equipment testing in a controlled laboratory environment, equipment testing in the field, equipment recovery in remote environments, equipment maintenance, and providing operational feedback to engineers and technical experts.

Requirements:

Must comfortable operating in a harsh out-door environment. Your team will deploy on short 1 to 3 day trips that involve navigating through tough terrain, carrying a pack and camping out in remote locations. Electronics or electro-mechanical experience a plus. Experience with UAV's a plus. Infantry, combat arms, or aircrew would be the best fit. Requires honorable discharge, clean driving record, and ability to start by 3/1/13.
